The Fourth Week of Ordinary Time

On the Fourth Sunday of Ordinary Time, Matthew's Gospel gives us the essence of Jesus teaching in the Beatitudes. 'Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Blessed are they who mourn, for they will be comforted'.

Tuesday is the Memorial of Saint John Bosco, priest. Thursday is the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord with its own special readings. Saturday is the Memorial of Saint Agatha, virgin and martyr.

The first reading this week continues with the Letter to the Hebrews. Jesus is priest and we should not be discouraged.

In Mark's Gospel this week, Jesus continues to heal and teach. A man in the Gerasenes is healed of unclean spirits and wants to stay with Jesus but he tells the man, 'Go home to your family and announce to them all that the Lord in his pity has done for you'. The young daughter of a synagogue official is sick and on the way to cure her, as Jesus stood in a crowd, he felt the power go out of him as a woman with a hemorrhage touched his cloak. 'Your faith has saved you', he reassures her. To the synagogue official he says, 'Do not be afraid; just have faith' and heals his daughter. He teaches in the synagogue in his hometown 'and they took offense at him'. He was not able to perform miracles there, because of their lack of faith. Jesus sends his apostles, in twos, to share the good news. After publicly promising a dancer anything she wants, Herod reluctantly gives the girl her wish and orders John the Baptist to be beheaded. When Jesus' disciples return from their journeys, he encourages them, 'Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while'. But as they tried to get away 'and saw the vast crowd, his heart was moved with pity for them, for they were like sheep without a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things'.

On the Fifth Sunday in Ordinary Time, Jesus encourages his disciples to let their light shine: 'Your light must shine before others, that they may see your good deeds and glorify your heavenly Father'.

Daily Prayer This Week

The readings this week seem to be about healing and call. In our ongoing renewal, I can ask our Lord to be continually healed of what is getting in my way and to continually be more and more open to my call.

Even though we are trying to be people who find intimacy with God in the very midst of our everyday lives, there might be moments this week when we plug into a really great connection with our Lord. So often that happens when we find ourselves in need of healing. Perhaps after many years of one part of our life being dominated by an unclean spirit, we discover a readiness to be whole again, pure again. Maybe we encounter a sin that has become 'my' sin, my obstacle to growth in my relationship with God. This may be the week to open my heart to pure grace and reconciliation.

This could be the week when we discover what a handicap fear itself is in my life. It may be the reason we don't ask or even reach out to touch Jesus for healing. This may be the week we are being invited to no longer be afraid and to let our Lord love us and heal us. Touching his cloak, without words, may be enough for us.

This week, like so many, can be a time for us to be consciously aware of our being called - placed in a position of being his disciple. In that situation, whatever way the invitation comes to us, we are clearly facing an opportunity to be a source of good news, rather than bad news; to love tenderly, rather than selfishly; to be a gatherer of others, rather than a divider; and to be a source of compassion, rather than a heartless judge. And, when that happens, we can delight in spending a bit more time with Jesus, comforting us for being his disciple there. We can 'come away with him' for even a brief moment and give thanks that we had that taste of his ministry, happening through us.

When we rest each night this week, expressing our thanks for this daily prayer is quite in order.

Fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time - Matthew 5:1-12 - Beatitudes

A happy person does not fall into sin very easily. Satan stays away from happy and joyful people and they are too hard to tempt. Yet Satan finds ways on how to attract us to him. Jesus has beatitudes and Satan had beatitudes too and this is called Satan's beatitudes. It is like this:

- Blessed are they who are too tired and busy to go to Church on Sunday, for they are my best workers.
- Blessed are they who are bored with the minister's mannerisms and mistakes, for they get nothing out of the sermon.
- Blessed are they who gossip for they cause strife and division that please me.
- Blessed are they who are easily offended for they soon get angry and quit.
- Blessed are they who do not give their offerings to carry on God's work, for they are my best helpers.
- Blessed are they who profess to love God but hate their own brother and sister, for they will be with me forever.
- Blessed are the troublemakers for they shall be called the children of the devil.
- Blessed is he/she who has no time to pray, for that person shall be easy prey.

Beatitudes are golden rules for happiness, as Vima Dasan, SJ claimed in his homily book His Word Lives. It is because the blessed may be poor in riches but they don't mind it because they trust in a caring God and so they are happy. The blessed may be happened to be materially rich but because they are poor in spirit the result is that God becomes so dear to them that wealth means nothing to them and therefore they are happy and many more. People who are poor in spirit are those: who trust God (vs. greed); those who are humble (vs. pride); those who forgive (vs. revenge); those who are just (vs. unfairness); those who are merciful (vs. rash judgment); those who are pure of hearts (vs. lust) and those who are witnessing (vs. sloth). These are our Christian attitudes if we want to be called blessed by God.

Beatitudes remind us again that happiness flows from within. It is found in moments of life we label as 'quality' rather than 'quantity'. Nowadays, what we need are not quantity of members but quality members of our Catholic Church that are committed to go on and fulfill God's will.
